webinar on Summer Internship on Latest Technology

A webinar was conducted by Nextstacks on the topic Summer Internship on Latest Technology, where Mr. Dibyajyoti Nayak, Director at Appstone Pvt Ltd. delivered his talk to the students of Vikash Institute of Technology, Bargarh as the resource person in the presence of Principal Vice Principal, HODs, faculty members on 15th May 2022.

Zoom meeting interface showing a presentation slide on Blockchain technology. The slide includes the following text:

BLOCKCHAIN

Blockchain can be described as data you can only add to, & not take away from or change.

- The term "chain" because you're making a chain of data.
- The ability to modify prior blocks is what makes it so secure.
- A blockchain developer specializes in the design and implementation of blockchain-based architecture and solutions.
- Blockchain eliminates the requirement for a trusted third party to supervise or authenticate transactions.
- The average yearly salary of a blockchain developer is ₹420K

CAGR of 67% BY 2025

$40 Billion BY 2025

Industries

To get into Blockchain, you need to have hands-on experience of:

- Programming languages,
- The fundamentals of OOPs,
- Flat and relational databases,
- Data structures,
- Web app development, and
- Networking.
